Novel is part of literary work. Every story must have the main characters. There is a moral message from each character that we can learn. This Research Paper is meant to show the life of labors and their struggle to survive from every obstacle. The writer chose the novel "Pahrik" as her material, because it shows realism in the society and has a moral message that will make readers understand that there are still many unhappiness around us. After doing this research, the writer found that labors must face a very hard life that is full of sadness, tears, injustice and poverty. And through this novel, Putu Wijaya was successful in exploring the aspects of realism by taking Dringgo as a representative.
